

Only two weeks to go now!

Will you be celebrating?

As we all know the next big national event is the Coronation of our new King on 6th May

If you are planning a celebration, be it a street party or a special gala at your local club, an event at your local pub, or even a street or house with colourful decorations – we want to see those photos!

This is how we get to tell the story of Benfleet - but we need your help. Just let us have your pictures, telling us a little about your event and where you are and we will do the rest.

An article on our website will be there for future generations to see how we celebrated the Crowning of King Charles III, just as the above photograph captures the time that the residents of Melcombe Road marked the Coronation of the late Queen Elizabeth II
